

THE BEAUMONT HUB

Welcome to issue six of our new termly newsletter

Student Union

Last year the Student Union decided they would like to do something different for Remembrance. The idea they came up with was to have a bench situated in college where people could go and have a quiet space.

When former student Mateo was enrolled he always organised a remembrance service here at college, and he has continued to be our alumni student. With this in mind Student Union asked if he would be happy to help finance towards the cost of buying a bench. So together this is what they have done.

The bench is located in the college grounds close to the garden entrance.

National Careers Week

Meet Jared

Jared was presented with his Level 1 Health and Safety in the Kitchen Certificate (from sensoryworld.org) by Ellie Townsend from Stanley's Community Centre Morecambe Café today. Ellie has supported Jared to achieve this important certificate. This means that he can properly start his Work Placement in the café where he will be completing a range of tasks, including serving service users and members of the public.

This Work Placement will give him the opportunity to develop his independence skills and introduce him to the world of work in hospitality.

Ellie said that Stanley's are working hard to become more disability confident, including developing their use of strategies to communicate more effectively with people with disabilities through increasing their use of Makaton signs and other visual tools.

Jared will be joined with his friend, Sean, who is also going to be working at Stanley's and is hoping to achieve his safety

Duke of Edinburgh

Students undertaking the The Duke of Edinburgh's Award braved the fresh spring weather this week to practice some of their camping cooking skills.

Students made their own lunches consisting of sausage, mash and beans and stewed apples and custard.

Rachel Diss, D of E Manager here at college said "What an amazing skill set they have developed today! Outdoor food prep, cooking and map reading skills - fantastic. They were so excited by different parts throughout the day".

certIFICATE this week.

Everyone at Beaumont College is looking forward to working alongside the team at Stanley's, thank you for the opportunities that you are giving our young people.

Meet Tyler

Tyler has been working at Morecambe Bay equestrian and has been doing really well, getting stuck in to mucking out stables and grooming the horses as part of his wider range of activities.

He has been praised by the manager for being polite and working well with other pupils from the wider community.

We are now taking bookings for both virtual and in person tours of the college for September 2022 and beyond. Contact admissions@beaumontcollege.ac.uk

Charity fund raising

The Friends of Beaumont Charity with support of Ambito Care and Education have recently purchased a new accessible swing for the college grounds.

Students are thrilled and cannot wait to take delivery of it, especially as the nicer weather arrives.

Meet Bradley

Bradley has been developing a range of skills within the holistic, overarching Careers Provision at Beaumont College. Bradley has developed his confidence across the varying subjects that he does, including being an active member of the college's Student Union. He now understands his rights and feels able to actively ask for changes to be made, he has recently contacted the local council to inform them of a dangerous drop curb he struggles to access in his wheelchair.

Bradley believes that finding his voice is going to help him to find work after college - this is his dream for the future. He is currently approaching local employers to ask them of any work placement opportunities that they may be able to offer him.

Meet Natasha

Natasha was able to gain lots of different work skills over the span of her educational placement with us at Beaumont College which she is now putting into practice as part of her lifestyle plan. Natasha now goes to volunteer at Barnado's twice a week where she undertakes many different tasks.

BEAUMONT ENTERPRISE

Enterprise at Beaumont College is branching out into products

The Art Enterprise group in College have recently started a business to promote the high quality artwork that is being produced. The students are working on designing a range of products such as mugs, bags, t-shirts and framed original prints to sell, as well as learning the basics of business.

For more information on how you can buy any of our products please get in touch!
